First hackathon?: Yes, for all three of us.

What it does

The league has 40 volunteer referees for Saturday games. When a referee can't make a game, they post in a group chat and hope someone answers, and games sometimes start late with no referee.

RefSwap lets a referee offer up a game slot. Everyone qualified for that age group gets a notification, and the first to accept takes the slot. The league organizer sees every swap in one list.

We ran out of time to put it online, so there's no live link or video yet. It runs on a laptop and the README has setup steps. We'd love feedback from the league before building more.
